About the Pleasanton Cultural Arts Council...

For more than 35 years, the Pleasanton Cultural Arts Council (PCAC) has supported the visual, literary, and performing arts and arts facilities.

By collaborating with other arts organizations, civic partners, and those passionate about the arts, PCAC has reached thousands of school-age children with outstanding arts education programs, provided one-time scholarships to emerging young artists, brought concert bands to the elementary schools, and helped make the Firehouse Arts Center a reality.

In 2013, we are working with the city of Pleasanton and other partners to bring an Arts Festival to downtown.
